

Morris Run, PA
Images from the Keith Lindie Archive. All Rights Reserved.

Tom Dwyer Sr. ran the Morris Run Store for 36 years. Here he is shown turning the store over to his son, Tom "Tiddle" Dwyer.

Miners at Morris Run wait to enter the mine. Note the piles of wood, used as prop poles to support the ceiling in the mines. Also take note that there are very few trees left on the hillside in the background. The photo was taken in 1907.

Having a few beers after a hard day at the mines are: row 1: Heavy Mesuck row 2: Bobby Matreski and Ed Jenkins row 3: John Batulis, Harold Morley, Duanne Phillips, James MacBlane, Stutch Dominokoski and Ben Tacka row 4: George Edwards, Andy Gustafson, John Labuski, Eugene Labuski and Albin Labuski.

Life in the coal mines of Morris Run. Pictured at left is Tom Sterling mine foreman and at right is Ed Jenkins the driver.

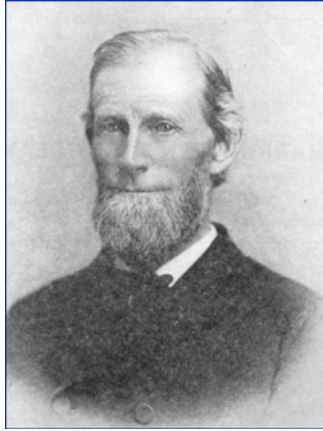

A coal car loaded and ready to go.
Resting on the coal car is Arnold "Fizz" Steika of Morris Run, PA.

Farmer Labuski shovels coal in the Morris Run, PA. mines

Jeffery or Goodman mining machine used in the mines at Morris Run, PA.

Nearing

